VOCABULARY

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>birth</th>
<th>school</th>
<th>graduate</th>
<th>immigrate</th>
<th>career</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>romance</td>
<td>marriage</td>
<td>parenting</td>
<td>retire</td>
<td>death</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>happy</td>
<td>sad</td>
<td>frustrated</td>
<td>calm</td>
<td>worried</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>proud</td>
<td>excited</td>
<td>scared</td>
<td>surprised</td>
<td>angry</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Verbs in the past tense are used to tell us about something that has already happened. When you change a verb to the past tense, you usually add “-ed” to the end of it. There are some verbs that are irregular and do not add “-ed” but instead change form. Examples: run becomes ran and do becomes did.

Change the given verbs to the past tense in each sentence.

1. It (rain)____________ yesterday.
2. Sam (run) ______________ to the bus.
3. I (walk) _______________ to school this morning.
4. George and Michael (do) _______________ paint the room red.
5. Emily (listen) _______________ to the radio on her way to work yesterday.
6. Eugene and Jose (talk) ______________ on the phone for an hour.
7. We (work) ______________ on our computers.
8. Crystal (order) ______________ her lunch.
9. Marcia (call) ______________ Edgar earlier today.
10. Monica and Isabel (stay) ______________ at work late yesterday.

WHAT’S THAT EMOTION?

Review the definitions below together as a class. Make each face as you go. Then watch the video to play the Tap.Snap.Pop. game. You may also use the emotions cards.

- happy - feeling enjoyment because of something in your life
- sad - not happy : feeling or showing grief or unhappiness
- frustrated - very angry or upset because of being unable to do something
- calm - a quiet and peaceful state or condition
- worried - feeling fear and concern because something bad has happened
- proud - very happy because of something you have done, something you own, someone you know or are related to, etc.
- excited - very enthusiastic and eager about something
- scared - afraid of something
- surprised - a feeling when something unexpected or unusual happens
- angry - a strong feeling of being upset or annoyed because of something wrong or bad
Watch the video story. Then, using what you learned and the portion of the transcript below, answer the questions.

“There are few moments in your life when you feel blissful within, when you feel full of joy and happiness. I had one of those moments when I was in the first grade, and I got selected the best student in my class. And I remember myself at the front of the classroom with my teacher by my side, teaching something ... I don’t remember what. But I remember that because I was so little that I cannot remember all the details. But I remember the feeling. What I felt in that moment. And it was proud. Proud of doing something that I liked. Proud of helping other people. And proud of being recognized as the best student. I think that moment defined my life. Since then I love teaching, I love explaining things, I love people asking me questions and I love explaining to them what I already know. So, if I have to choose one moment, that is the moment.”

1. In Ana’s memory, what grade was she in?

2. What was she selected for?

3. What feeling does she remember?

4. What changed in Ana’s life since that moment?

SHOW AND TELL

Choose an object or picture that represents an event in your life. Present the story of that event to the class.

1. Which object or picture did you choose?

2. Does this make you think of a certain time in your life?

3. What life event is connected to it?

4. What vocabulary words fit with this life experience?

5. Where did you live when this happened?

6. How old were you?

7. What other people were involved?
HOMEWORK CHALLENGE

Use the past tense to share about a favorite memory.

___________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________

NOTES

___________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________